Sicily: Crossroads of Tradition and Quality in Durum Wheat Production

Sicily, a land of rare scenic beauty and ancient cultural traditions, is an excellence in the production of durum wheat.

Cicero and Plinio the Elder considered Sicily as the granary of the Roman Empire.

The island produces high quality pasta and the history of pasta is born in Sicily.

El Idrisi, the Arab geographer at the court of King Roger II the Norman, in 1100 described the first pasta production plant in history (Itriyah, from the Arabic meaning "vermicelli"). Moreover, hundreds of traditional bread and leavened baked products are produced in Sicily

IGW 2026 offers companies the opportunity to showcase their innovative products, services, and solutions during the Congress, through dedicated presentation sessions and workshops.

Companies can connect with potential customers, partners, and investors from around the world, creating new business and collaboration opportunities.
